Purpose of this Directory

This Neighborhood Directory provides easy access to community resources, neighborhood services and reference information for every resident. Our neighborhood is officially designated “Prospect Park East River Road Neighborhood (PPERR)” by the City of Minneapolis—one of 81 neighborhoods in the city. Its official boundaries are: SE Oak Street on the West, the city limits (SE Emerald Avenue) on the East, the railroad tracks in the Southeast Industrial Area on the North, and the Mississippi River on the South (see the map). Adjacent neighborhoods are: University District and Marcy-Holmes to the West, Como to the North, Seward to the South (across the river), South St. Anthony Park to the Northeast (in St. Paul) and Merriam Park to the Southeast (in St. Paul).

Our neighborhood organization, Prospect Park East River Road Improvement Association (PPERRIA) also exercises jurisdiction further to the West, including all of the residents and businesses up to the University of Minnesota campus because no other city neighborhood covers this area. PPERRIA presently is administering the City of Minneapolis NRP (Neighborhood Revitalization Program) funds for our neighborhood. One of the projects suggested by our neighbors during the NRP design process in 1994 and 1995 was “producing a directory of neighborhood services” which would not only help long-time residents, but also could be distributed as part of a welcoming packet to newcomers. We began by using copies of two previously produced directories: the 1970 Prospect Park Cooperative Community Information Directory (Jim Youngdale, Chair), and the 1977 Tower Hill Neighbors Community Resources Directory (Anne Barnum Chair, produced by Fran Rector, Marge Johnson, Dottie Quam and Pat Tritz). We later discovered a 1981 edition: Southeast Directory organized by the Neighborhood Relations Committee in 1979 (Anne Barnum, Chair and produced by Catherine Johnson, Vicki Cronin, Helen Kretchmer, Judy Sawyer and Pat Tritz). We plan to distribute copies of this new directory to all residents. Copies will be available for newcomers to the neighborhood for the next year or so.

The information provided here is also available on the Internet at the PPERRIA website: <http://freenet.msp.mn.us/org/pperrria/> which will be updated more frequently than reprinting paper editions. To produce and publish our Neighborhood Directory we have used some NRP money allotted to this project, and found it necessary to solicit additional advertising revenue to defray printing costs. Our goal is to make the directory self-sustaining (without NRP funds) for printing future revisions. Please use the Revision Form to tell us about additions and corrections.

Thanks!

Directory Task Group Co-Chairs: Andy Mickel & Ruth Fen.
Task Group Members: Cheryl Vollhaber, Jeanne Moses, Paula Denman, Harrison Nelson.

Directory Reviewers: Ginny Betlach, Sherenia Gibbs, Susan Gottlieb, Bruce Graff, Mary Alice Kopf, Susan Larson-Fleming, Florence Littman, Janet Lund, Dan Patenaude, Nick Puzak, Jere Purple, Jerry Stein, Pat Tritz, and Lois Willand.

Brief History

The Prospect Park East River Road neighborhood has always contained a mixture of residential, industrial and commercial uses. People began living east of SE Oak Street in the last half of the 19th century and in the Tower Hill area (then a Minneapolis suburb reachable by trolley!) in 1884. Sledgers could glide from Tower Hill all the way to what is now the Franklin Avenue Bridge (built in 1923 and rebuilt in 1971). Sidney Pratt School at Malcolm and Orlin was built in 1898. Residents rallied to save Tower Hill from being leveled in 1901 by organizing the first neighborhood organization in Minneapolis: the Prospect Park Improvement Association (now PPERRIA). In 1913 the water tower was built and was used for more than 40 years. A Frank Lloyd Wright-designed house was built in 1934. The Glendale Housing Project was conceived after World War II and completed in 1952. The I-94 freeway project, conceived in the late 1950's, was completed in 1964. State Highway 280 was completed in 1972.

Several articles have been written about the neighborhood over the years: “Going Back to Prospect Park” by Jean Riss, in Ford Times, 1969, pp. 10-15; “Prospect Park: One-of-a-Kind Neighborhood” by Ann Wick (about fighting for what it believes to be the Common Good) in Hennepin County History, Vol 32, No 2, Spring, 1973, pp. 3-13; “A Few Good Fights” by Claire Aronson (about fighting for Prospect Park over the years) in Hennepin History, Vol 54, No 1, Winter, 1995, pp. 4-17. Many articles have appeared in issues of these monthly Minneapolis community newspapers: Riverbank Rambler, 1987-1990; South-East Journal (now SouthEast Angle) May, 1975 to present; Tower Talks, 1974 to 1982 and 1988.

Community Information

Activities/Information/ Meetings/Notices

Several places in the neighborhood are used for posting notices publicizing anything of general interest (rather than using telephone poles, which is unsightly and illegal). For example if you have items for sale or a lost pet, post notices at/in:

1. Pratt Community Center, SE Malcolm @ SE Orlin
2. Luxton Park Community Center, 112 SE Williams
3. SouthEast Angle Newspaper
4. Tower Grocery, SE Bedford @ SE University Ave
5. Signature Cafe, 130 SE Warwick St
6. Harvard Market East, 828 SE Washington Ave
7. Schneider Drug, 3400 SE University Ave
8. SouthEast Auto Service, SE Franklin Ave @ SE 27th Ave
9. Prospect Park United Methodist Church, SE Malcolm Ave @ SE Orlin Ave

Block Clubs (PPERR Neighborhood)

A system of block clubs was begun in the late 1970's and renewed in the mid-1990's with PPERRIA NRP activity for the primary purpose of crime prevention. Block clubs consist of a leader and neighbors in a small area of part of one street or several adjacent streets. Not all areas of the neighborhood have block clubs. Contact members of the PPERRIA Safety and Security committee for the Block Club nearest you (there are about 30): Pam Wollum, 623-3747; John Billig, 333-1067; or Harrison Nelson, 378-5388. Every 1st Tuesday in August block clubs participate in National Night Out events to help neighbors meet one another. The Minneapolis Police Community Crime Prevention (CCP/SAFE) program stays in touch with block-club leaders. E-mail addresses are provided via Associated Block Clubs: <name>@blockclubs.org

E-mail: pperria@freenet.msp.mn.us
Web Site: <http://www.freenet.msp.mn.us/org/pperria/>
Organized in 1901, PPERRIA is the Neighborhood organization, with all residents eligible to join. The group actively addresses local issues directly affecting our neighborhood. In the last four years, PPERRIA has also managed the neighborhood's NRP program. Topics of discussion address these areas: Housing; Transportation; Environment; Education and Human Services; Safety and Security; Livability; Business, Jobs and Employment; Parks, Arts, Recreation and Culture. Issues include: block club organizing; zoning and land use changes; taxes; traffic changes; playground equipment; housing rehabilitation; historic preservation; and landscaping of public areas. Suggested annual household contribution is $12.00 to cover the cost of mailing the monthly information newsletter. Meetings are held in the lower level of the Prospect Park United Methodist Church, SE Malcolm & SE Orlin Ave, 4th Monday of each month, 7:00-9:00pm.

“Lorraine and Malcolm Stinson (3 boys and a girl) 126 Arthur Ave. were the neighborhood’s best part givers and they did parties casually...as you walked in the door, Lorraine would be putting a rack of pork chops topped with cranberry sauce in the oven.. Served after an evening of charades.”

Neighborhood Services

An attempt has been made to list all businesses within the PPERR Neighborhood proper; some others are listed in adjacent neighborhoods. Of course, listings do not imply endorsements—we are aiming for completeness!

* designates services within PPERR Neighborhood proper.
@ designates services which are the “nearest of its kind.”
All other services are in adjacent neighborhoods.
